

Marijuana Arrests Predicted

(Democrat-Capital Service)
VERSAILLES — Authorities predict early arrests in connection with the largest marijuana case recorded in this area.
 Sheriff J. T. Hull, Morgan County Sheriff, said Tuesday two warrants have been issued in the case against Alton F. Dietz and Paul David Smithson, no permanent addresses given, both charged with possession of marijuana.
 The case began Oct. 3 with a horseback ride on a sunny Sunday afternoon by two boys in the rural area south of Tipton near Fortuna on the Morgan-Moniteau Counties line.
 The boys rode up to a place where two men were drying something on tarpaulins. One of the riders asked the men, "What are you doing, camping out?" One remark led to another and the riders recognized the weeds being dried were marijuana. Hull said. It had rained the day and night before and the marijuana had gotten wet.

 After the men decided the riders were aware of what they were doing, one tried to grab the reins of the horses and detain the boys. But the boys got away and informed relatives what was going on. The relatives in turn notified authorities, Hull related.
 As the site is so near the county line, the Moniteau County Sheriff, the Tipton Police, the Morgan County Sheriff and the Highway Patrol all sent representatives to the area.
 They picked up about 1,500 pounds of marijuana the same day the incident was reported. The value of the material was not known.

 It was finally decided the site was in Morgan County and the marijuana was placed in the custody of Sheriff Hull. The boys had recognized the two men, who had departed the area by the time the officers arrived, and later the warrants were issued.
 Hull said the two men, both from out of state, had arrived in the area not long before the raid, bought a small farm with apparent plans to process marijuana there. The amount of raw marijuana weeds along with the type of weed indicates the marijuana was imported from out of state. "It just doesn't grow in that quantity around here," Hull said.

Lindsay Throws Hat In Democratic Ring

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, a Republican until last August, announced today that he seeks the Democratic presidential nomination.
 "I have decided to seek the presidency," he said, "and I will begin that effort in the Florida primary." The Florida primary is March 14.
 Lindsay attacked the Nixon administration for ignoring the needs of ordinary people in the nation and the world, calling the White House now "a clubhouse for privileged power at home and the parade ground for juntas and generals from around the world."
 He said in a prepared statement that Washington "is a capital closed to the ordinary citizen, but open to bankrupt corporate giants, foreign dictators and to those wealthy enough to buy privileged protection with campaign cash."
 Lindsay, 50, said he chose Miami to announce because its economic and cultural diversity make it a testing ground for the principles he will run on.
 Following his appearances in the state, Lindsay was to fly to Wisconsin, where he will announce his plans Wednesday for the April 4 primary there.

Air Pressure of America Is Continuing in Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Flight after flight of U.S. warplanes struck at targets in North Vietnam today for the third day in a row. Radio Hanoi claimed one more jet—the sixth since the weekend—was shot down in Monday's raids.
 Informants said another round of strikes is planned for Wednesday, sustaining the biggest bombing campaign since the halt in full-scale attacks more than three years ago.

Superceding an earlier broadcast, Radio Hanoi said tonight that one jet was shot down Monday over Quang Binh Province, just above the demilitarized zone. It made no mention of the fate of the crew. Radio Hanoi claimed earlier that five F4 Phantoms were downed Sunday in the opening day of the raids. It said a number of pilots were killed and captured and specified that at least two were killed.
 In Paris, both the United States and North Vietnam called off Thursday's session of the Vietnam peace talks. The United States said it was doing so because the North Vietnamese had violated the 1968 understanding which resulted in the halt to the sustained bombing of North Vietnam. The North Vietnamese said it acted in protest of the current air attacks.

 In South Vietnam, a Viet Cong platoon shot down seven U.S. helicopters supporting militiamen in an operation 27 miles northwest of Saigon. The U.S. Command said 10 American crewmen were wounded, one helicopter was destroyed and the other six were damaged. Five South Vietnamese and three of the enemy were reported killed in the fighting.

 The U.S. Command remained silent on American losses in the attacks on North Vietnam, but Radio Hanoi made no new claims. This indicated there had been no American losses since the report Sunday that five F4 Phantoms had been shot down, at least two pilots killed and an unspecified number captured.

Informants said hundreds of strikes had been made against North Vietnamese antiaircraft defenses and war stockpiles awaiting shipment into Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam.
 Supplementing the raids were U.S. B52 strikes along the Laotian border with North Vietnam. No B52 strikes have been reported in South Vietnam for three days, and informants said they had been diverted to Laos.
 The North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry accused the U.S. pilots of bombing and strafing attacks Monday against "many civilian populated areas, including a children's school," in Quang Binh Province, just to the north of the demilitarized zone. The U.S. Command refused to comment.

In southeastern Laos, heavy North Vietnamese assaults on the Bolovens plateau, along the western rim of the Ho Chi Minh trail network, forced Thai and Laotian troops to abandon three positions including the town of Pak Song.
 The three Thai and Laotian battalions that withdrew several miles to the west are now the only government troops remaining on the strategic plateau.
 The Communist Pathet Lao claimed today that it killed more than 3,100 Thai and Laotian government troops and captured more than 200 others in the four-day battle in which the Communists recaptured the Plain of Jars last week.

Veterans Relinquish Statue Stranglehold

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixteen antiwar veterans bowed to a federal order today and opened the doors of the Statue of Liberty after holding the national monument since Sunday night.

The veterans walked out of the pedestal after their lawyers brought word to Liberty Island that Judge Lawrence W. Pierce had barred further occupation of the statue, which the group seized to dramatize their opposition to continued fighting in Vietnam.

Pierce's decision came after government lawyers argued that they could not "bargain away the right of other people to visit the statue," which they called "a symbol for mankind."

The government also contended that damage possibly was being done to the statue because the veterans have gained access to locked parts of the 305-foot-high monument. "Since they have no keys, we can only surmise they gained access by knocking down the doors or some other way," said Asst. U.S. Atty. Alan B. Morrison.

A lawyer for the veterans countered, however, that he talked with the group Monday and was assured that the government's surmise that damage was occurring "is without foundation."

A full hearing on a motion for an injunction was scheduled for Jan. 5.

The group rejected Monday evening a government compromise offer that would have reopened the historic monument to sightseers while allowing the veterans to remain on Liberty Island and continue their protest.

Flying an American flag upside down as a symbol of distress, the veterans reiterated their position that they would not leave until their demand that the protest be publicized to U.S. troops was met.

Similar antiwar protests were carried out Monday at the Betsy Ross House in Philadelphia and at a ward in a hospital at Travis Air Force Base in California.

Members of the VVAW have been encamped at Valley Forge, Pa., since last week. Spokesmen claimed that the New York and Philadelphia protests were launched from there.

Over North Vietnam

Deny Full-Scale Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Pentagon spokesman denied today that the United States has resumed the kind of full-scale bombing campaign which was waged against North Vietnam between 1965 and 1968.

"We have not resumed the bombing campaign of the North," spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim told a briefing.
 "Our operations are limited duration strikes. They are limited as to geography and targets."

When reporters noted that Johnson administration officials claimed their bombing attacks were limited as to targets, Friedheim responded that "they were not nearly as restricted as now."

Under questioning, Friedheim said a major difference between the current series of attacks and the air war of the late 1960s is that "we are supporting a different policy." The new policy, he said, is to withdraw forces from the Southeast Asia war, rather than continue to fight a major ground conflict with U.S. troops.

The driving reason behind the current air attacks against the North, Friedheim stressed, is "to protect our diminishing forces in Vietnam."

"We will do what is necessary to protect these forces as we withdraw," he said.

Meanwhile, attacks by congressional Democrats mounted against the stepped up bombing, while Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said the new strikes were prompted by violations of a 1968 understanding with Hanoi.

Laird refused at a year-end news conference Monday to rule out more strikes against North Vietnam and Radio Hanoi reported that fresh waves of American bombers hit various targets for the third straight day today.

The defense chief described the attacks by a reported force of 350 planes as being of limited duration. He said they will not slow down the U.S. troop withdrawal rate. With the U.S. troop level in Vietnam down to 180,000, Laird said: "The primary emphasis is on protecting the remaining American forces that are in Vietnam today."

But Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. George McGovern said the "shocking escalation . . . sinks us deeper into the quagmire of Indochina and, more important, makes it certain none of our prisoners will be released."

"While Bob Hope acts as an emissary of President Nixon in seeking release of our prisoners, the Air Force acts as the true Nixon instrument in guaranteeing that the number of POWs will be increased," the South Dakota senator said in a statement issued from his presidential campaign headquarters.

In Philadelphia, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., signed a statement calling for the setting of a date for total withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam, cessation of all bombing and removal of U.S. support for the present Saigon government.

The former vice president signed the statement after his speech before the American Association for the Advancement of Science was disrupted by a group of jeering antiwar, anti-Humphrey young people.

Rep. Lester L. Wolff, D-N.Y., who heads a Democratic study group on "Vietnam oversight," said Nixon should address the nation on the air war.

Latest Air Strikes Cancel Paris Talks

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam cancelled the next session of the Vietnam peace talks in simultaneous actions today.

The meeting had been scheduled for Thursday and would have been the first since Dec. 8. The United States gave the same reasons Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird gave Monday to justify the current heavy air attacks on North Vietnam. The North Vietnamese said their cancellation was in protest against the air attacks.

The United States and its South

Vietnamese allies suggested no date for resumption of the talks but said this "does not imply any intention on the part of our side to discontinue the Paris talks." It suggested that the liaison officers of the four delegations could set a new date.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong called for resumption of the talks on Jan. 6.

A North Vietnamese spokesman, Nguyen Thanh Le, told a news conference that liaison officers of the two sides met at the North Vietnamese delegation headquarters at 9 a.m. today and exchanged the cancellation notes.

A Viet Cong spokesman, Ly Van Sau, accused President Nixon of "gradually sabotaging the conference" and said the reasons given by the U.S. delegation for cancelling Thursday's session were "a pretext to justify the Nixon plan for expanding the war."

"This has created a very grave situation," he added.

Laird told a news conference in Washington Monday that the heavy bombing of North Vietnam which began Sunday was prompted by violations of the 1968 understanding with Hanoi which resulted in President Johnson's bombing halt.

The U.S.-South Vietnamese statement today repeated the secretary's charges. It accused North Vietnam of heavy attacks against unarmed U.S. reconnaissance planes, use of North Vietnam as a sanctuary from which to attack U.S. aircraft operating in Laos, recent indiscriminate rocket attacks on Saigon there has been one in nearly three months, construction of an infiltration road through the demilitarized zone "for the purposes of continued aggression" and failure to negotiate seriously in Paris.

The peace talks were to resume Thursday after a three-week suspension. At the last session on Dec. 9, U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter called off the Dec. 16th session to give the Communists time to reflect on their positions and "negotiate seriously," he said. Porter proposed meeting Dec. 23 but later cancelled that one and proposed Dec. 30, which the Communists accepted.

Laundry Facility Closing Its Doors

Dorn-Cloney Industries, Inc., 201 East Third, a laundry and cleaning business here since 1900, officially went out of business Friday, it was learned from Wes Bunce, president, Tuesday morning.

Bunce said he preferred not to comment on the reasons for terminating the business.

According to Bunce, he became president of the firm in 1959, when then-known Dorn-Cloney Laundry-Dry Cleaning and Linen Supply Inc., became known as Dorn-Cloney Industries, Inc.

The firm leased the property at 201 East Third, Bunce said, but all equipment was owned by the corporation. He said he had no comment on what would be done with the equipment.

The company employed 25 persons at the time it closed, but at its peak of operation about 100 persons were on the pay-roll, Bunce said.

He indicated he had no immediate plans for the future.

Economy's Path Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's list of leading economic indicators which tend to foreshadow future movements in the economy, showed a slight gain in November, the Commerce Department said today.

The index of leading business indicators advanced by two-tenths of one per cent after a strong 1.1 per cent increase in October.

The report gave no evidence the economy is ready to swing into a sharply expansionist stage as predicted by the Nixon administration.

But a Commerce Department economist,

Asst. Secretary Harold C. Passer, said the slight gain last month continues the increase in the indicators that has been under way for more than a year.

"Thus, the leading indicators continue to point toward further economic expansion in the months ahead," Passer said.

Of the eight indicators available in November, five were up and three were down, with the strongest gains recorded in the length of the average work week and new factory orders for durable goods.

The increase brought the composite index of leading indicators to 128.5 per cent of the 1967 base year.

The sharpest decline came in the indicator for housing permits, which dropped 9.7 per cent after a 14.4 per cent increase in October.

Other indicators showing gains were those for initial claims for unemployment insurance, the price-labor cost ratio, and contracts and orders for plants and equipment.

Besides building permits, indicators for industrial materials prices and stock prices dropped in November, the department said.

Cigarette Tax Hike On Feb. 1

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The 4-cent tax increase on cigarettes, approved by the Jackson County court last week, will become effective Feb. 1, George W. Lehr, presiding judge said Monday.

Lehr said Feb. 1 was the earliest the increase could be implemented because of a ruling by the State Revenue Department which requires a month in which to change decals that are hand-stamped on cigarette packages.

Two cigarette industry representatives met Monday with William Kimsey, county finance director, and Herbert Kohn, county counselor, to request that the tax not be implemented until March 1.

Cecil K. Pribyl, owner of the Edwards Vending Service Company, Inc. and Philip J. Cohen, owner of the Central Candy & Tobacco Co., asked for the additional time so vendors could convert their machines to the new price of 55 cents a pack.

Kohn said to knock off 60 days would hinder the state in meeting its budget.

"If we gave that much time, it might cost us $500,000 and it would amount to not going up the full four cents. We wouldn't have gone up four cents if we hadn't needed it," Kohn said.

Charged in Death Of Union Member

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Leo T. Cosgrove, 45, of Edwardsville, Ill., was arrested and charged with murder Monday in the slaying of a St. Louis teamsters union member.

The victim, Billy Wayne Hopper, was found shot to death earlier this month in the cab of a truck at Southwest Lines in St. Louis. Cosgrove worked with Hopper, authorities said.

Police said Cosgrove had been free under bond pending his trial on charges of discharging a firearm within the city limits and impersonating a police officer. He was arrested on those charges in February.

Authorities said Cosgrove gave his address as 1702 Edwardsville Road.

Missionaries Safe

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Five missionaries have been reported safe in Bangla Desh following the Indian-Pakistani war, the international headquarters of the Assemblies of God announced Monday.

Officials identified the five, all former Springfield residents, as Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hawkes, and Miss Josephine Spina.

Texas School Decision May Alter Kansas View

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — A federal court decision in Texas may cause Kansas legislators to take a new look at methods of financing school education, Sen. Joseph Harder, R-Moundridge, has predicted.

Harder, chairman of a legislative committee studying alternative means of financing public education, noted a ruling by a three-man federal panel last week that Texas' heavy reliance on local property tax to finance elementary and secondary education is invalid.

The ruling followed similar decisions in California and Minnesota. The California ruling is being appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Two similar suits have been filed in Kansas, one in Shawnee County and another in Johnson County.

"It's a whole new ball game," Harder said in an interview Monday. "A lot of guys who told me they weren't interested in school finances next session now say they think maybe we should do something about it in 1972."

Suits brought in the three states challenged heavy use of property taxes to finance education as a violation of Constitutional guarantees of equal educational opportunities. The challenges alleged children in school districts with low tax bases are denied educational opportunities equal to those of children attending school in districts with "rich" tax bases.

Harder has been advocating that the legislature act ahead of possible similar court rulings in Kansas, but in recent months has not seemed to get much support. Now, he believes he will get some attention.

Plans Monitor Over Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien says he intends to monitor the campaign for his party's presidential nomination, and blow the whistle on any candidate assailing others in a fashion that might help Republicans.

O'Brien said he will spend six more months as "an activist and outspoken" Democratic chairman, prepared to chastise any presidential candidate who breaches agreements on the way the campaign for nomination will be conducted.

He presumably will yield the chairmanship next July 14 to a successor chosen by the man nominated for the White House at the Democratic national convention.

In a year-end report, O'Brien said he believes agreements among the candidates on the conduct of the campaign will be observed. "But I will not hesitate to speak out when, in my judgment, personal attacks or other violations of the agreements we have reached are damaging the party's chances to defeat Mr. Nixon and the Republicans in the general election," he said.

O'Brien said the crowded field of Democratic prospects offers the party "an opportunity to present its case to the American people in advance of the general election campaign."

But for that to work, he said, the Democratic contenders will have to hammer away during the primary campaigns at common themes of disagreement with Nixon, and not at each other.

The candidates have agreed to that, to limit their primary campaign spending to five cents for each registered voter for television and radio broadcasts, with a similar limit on other forms of campaign advertising.

In addition, O'Brien said, they have agreed to abide by the reforms instituted by the party to insure an open process of delegate selection for 1972.

"The candidates competing for the presidential nomination bear a special burden to see that delegate selection criteria are observed to the letter," O'Brien said.

At the same time, O'Brien said, the contenders have agreed that they will not post frivolous credentials challenges at the convention as a tactic to win nomination.

Such challenges would amount to an effort to unsettle delegates pledged to support a rival candidate.

Anemia Has Many Causes

Yesterday I discussed pernicious anemia as one manifestation of vitamin B-12 deficiency. Today I want to say a little more about anemias. There are many ways an anemia can be caused. The obvious method is bleeding. This can be a frank hemorrhage, increased menstrual flow, seeping from the intestine, even worms in the intestine or constant small amounts of bleeding from hemorrhoids or from an unrecognized ulcer. If one is losing more blood cells from bleeding than he can produce, then anemia occurs.

plenty of red blood cells, but the cells don't contain enough iron and hence can't carry oxygen efficiently. A common cause of iron deficiency is excessive menstrual blood loss without enough iron in the diet. The body may be able to manufacture enough blood cell replacements, but runs out of iron for the new cells.

Finally there are the anemias caused by failure of the body to produce the normal amounts of blood cells. This may occur if the bone marrow is damaged, by toxins, even medicines or just quits on its own.

Another way is destruction of the red blood cells within the body. This is sometimes related to an overactive spleen destroying too many red blood cells. This is called "hemolytic anemia." Because the red blood cells contain the iron pigment, hemoglobin, to carry oxygen, such destruction can cause jaundice. A person who has been very inactive and suddenly becomes physically active may destroy a large number of red blood cells initially.

Anemia causes few symptoms, depending on how severe it is. Fatigue and weakness is a common symptom. In advanced anemias normal brain function is impaired because of lack of oxygen for the brain.

In advanced anemias the heart has to work harder because each unit of blood contains less oxygen. This can cause a variety of heart problems. If the person has coronary artery disease, it can even produce anginal chest pain, which can be relieved if the anemia is corrected. Since coronary artery disease is more common in older people, an anemia can be more serious in this age group. In people with normal hearts, advanced anemia can cause heart murmurs and even heart failure. These too can be corrected by correcting the anemia.

Some poisons can also destroy red blood cells. Abnormalities in the red blood cells can cause them to be susceptible to sudden destruction. One of these, sickle cell anemia, occurs in people of African descent and an anemia crisis can occur when they are exposed to high altitude, because of lack of oxygen.

Anemias can also be caused by deficiencies. Pernicious anemia is one example. Dietary deficiencies, or deficiencies of gland function, like the thyroid gland, can cause anemia. The most popular deficiency, of course, is iron deficiency anemia. These people have

Unemployed To Receive Added Money

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Beginning Jan. 2 unemployed Missourians who have exhausted their 26 weeks of unemployment compensation, can start receiving up to 13 weeks of additional benefits, the State Employment Security Division reported today.

The extension was ordered by Secretary of Labor J. D. Hodgson to meet the requirement of federal legislation.

Missouri failed to pass legislation last spring to conform with the federal law. Legislators friendly to labor wanted to increase weekly benefits in the compliance law but others refused and the bill died.

That produced a situation in which Missouri's unemployed were cut off at the end of their 26 weeks of unemployment compensation and industry faced the possibility of a penalty tax if the compliance bill fails again.

The state Chamber of Commerce said it would cost industry $140 million in 1972 in the compliance law is not passed. A bill to meet the federal requirements has been introduced in the Senate but several others have been introduced in the House to boost compensation.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes has said the strict compliance bill should be handled separately.

Poster Check By IRS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service agents will begin checking retail stores closely next week for violations of rules requiring freeze-period price ceilings to be posted prominently.

"We will vigorously enforce this regulation," an IRS spokesman said. "These directions have gone out to the field."

Enforcement will be concentrated in big chain stores, those with annual sales of $100,000 or more and subject to a government regulation requiring prior approval of price increases, the spokesman said.

But he emphasized that consumers searching for the highest possible price a store can charge on a given item can obtain that information only by asking the store's management.

What must be posted under government requirements are freeze-period prices, the legally permissible ceilings that existed on goods during the 90-day wage-price freeze from Aug. 15 to Nov. 13.

In many cases, retailers have asked and received approval from the Price Commission to boost their prices beyond this limit. As a result, the freeze-period price is intended only as a rough guide for consumers.

There's one general rule, however, that government regulators informally pass on to consumers: If the price increase on a given item exceeds 2.5 per cent, ask the retailer for the new ceiling price.

Although 2.5 per cent is a general target, the government has approved many price increases higher than that. The rule is that a retailer may not boost his percentage markup, and price increases must be justified by cost increases.

Consumers, however, will not get a look at all the ceiling prices that were permissible during the freeze.

A retailer with annual sales of more than $100,000 a year must post the freeze-period ceiling prices on, at most, 40 items in each department of his store. The items covered are the ones he sold most during the last fiscal year. Or he may post prices only on items that accounted for at least half of total dollar sales in each department.

One exception: Large retailers must post freeze-period prices on all of their food products.

For retailers with annual sales less than $100,000, the same posting rules apply, with a few exceptions. Not all food ceiling prices must be posted, only the ceiling prices on high-volume goods.

Closing Robbery Search

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP) — A thousand West German police hoped they were closing in today on the three Cologne bank robbers who freed their hostages unharmed and fled on foot into a forest near the French border.

The bandits, armed with shotguns, abandoned their two police hostages and the panel truck in which they escaped and disappeared Monday night into the Kierke forest about six miles from the French frontier. They carried their loot—about $97,000—in a black attache case.

Police tentatively identified the robbers as Kurt Vizenik, 44, an Austrian; a Frenchman and an Italian. A fourth man, Roger Roch, 37, of Marseilles, was arrested in Cologne when he tried to contact Vizenik after the holdup. He was to be arraigned today as an accomplice.

The robbers entered the branch of the Deutschebank about 10 a.m., Monday, drew their guns and ordered everybody to lie on the floor. A bank employee happened to be talking by phone with a customer and told him, "There's a holdup." The customer called the police, and a patrol car arrived within a minute.

Witnesses said the robbers began discussing hostages when they realized police were outside the bank. Two hours of negotiations with police followed while thousands gathered outside in the cathedral square.

Through it all the police acted with restraint, obviously mindful of public criticism after a bank robbery in Munich last August when a woman hostage was killed along with one of the robbers.

After two hours of negotiation Cologne Criminal Police Chief Werner Hamacher, 46, and a district police chief, Hans Krauss, 51, volunteered to substitute as hostages for three bank employees seized by the gunmen.

The bandits were given a guarantee of safe conduct and a getaway truck, the police having shot the tires of the car the trio planned to use in their escape.

For eight hours, Hamacher and Krauss sat in the front of the escape truck, four shotguns trained on them, with Hamacher driving and paying for gasoline.

Hamacher said that during the 160-mile trip toward the French border, he and Krauss made clear that they would not cross the frontier with their captors.

Theft, Vandalism Reported to Police

Police received reports Monday of a vandalism incident and one of theft.

Charles Neal, manager of the A and P Store, 1305 South Limit, reported to police that someone had taken four sections of rolling conveyor from the store. He told police that he had seen the 12-foot sections Friday, but discovered they were missing Saturday.

Cecil Owens, 821 West Sixth, reported to police that the engine wires and fan belt on his GMC pick-up were damaged while it was parked in a garage at that address. He said the garage door was open during the past week when the vandalism apparently occurred then.

Marriage License

Gerald John Hart, Troy, Ill., and Aurora Lorene Lavery, Rolla.

Amel Curtis Kreglinger, Stover, and Velma May Campbell, Florence.

Morris Keith Dillon, Squire, W. Va., and Linda Sue Curry, 1615 South Lamine.

Charles Raymond Fisher Jr., 237 East Saline, and Charlotte Lorene Coonce, 237 East Saline.

Mrs. Whiteman In Serious Condition

Mrs. Earlie Whiteman, 77, 623 West 24th, mother of the first American airman killed in World War II, was in serious condition at Bothwell Hospital at 1 p.m. Tuesday after she was taken there following a "possible heart attack" early Tuesday.

Mrs. Whiteman, who lives alone, called the Sedalia Police Department at 1:20 a.m., saying she was having difficulty breathing. Officers went to the scene and found the door locked, but Mrs. Whiteman, with considerable difficulty, finally opened the door.

The officers called the Sedalia Fire Department and an ambulance. The firemen arrived and administered oxygen until the ambulance arrived. Oxygen was also administered on the way to the hospital.

Mrs. Whiteman was reported slightly improved after receiving treatment in the Intensive Care Unit at the hospital.

Nixon, Brandt Are Starting Conferences

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Blessed with balmy temperatures and a warm diplomatic climate, President Nixon and West German Chancellor Willy Brandt today open a summit conference expected to produce words to match the weather but no dramatic developments.

With U.S.-German relations very cordial and world economic tensions eased, the Brandt-Nixon talks are said by officials from both countries to be focused on exchanging views on general, global matters.

Nixon and Brandt plan to meet this afternoon and at a private dinner tonight, while Secretary of State William P. Rogers confers with his German counterpart, Foreign Minister Walter Scheel.

The talks on all levels primarily will be exchanges of views of East West relations. The role of the western alliance in the changing international scene and Brandt's idea of establishing some formal link between the United States and the European Common Market.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler indicated the soft nature of the conference, the first to involve a foreign leader at Key Biscayne, when he told reporters Monday they "should not expect any dramatic developments ... no specific agreements."

He said some trade and world economic problems would be discussed but it was apparent this would be a relatively small matter because the Bonn government earlier canceled the participation by its economic and finance minister, Karl Schiller.

There was no need for a highlevel discussion involving Schiller and U.S. Secretary of the Treasury John Connally, officials said, because of the progress made in recent weeks in their areas.

Economy's

dropped 4.6 per cent, according to the report, after a 2.1 per cent decline in October.

The index of leading indicators has increased by more than 13 per cent in the last 12 months, Passer said. The index has recorded increases in 11 of the past 13 months.

The slow advance in November, however, gave the Nixon administration little to boast about. The administration has predicted the economy will soon begin to move into a faster stage.

Earlier, new balance of trade figures indicated the United States is virtually assured of its first trade deficit in almost a century.

Even though the $227.2 million deficit for November was a sharp improvement over the $821.4 million record figure for October, it's not enough to offset an 11-month trend of more imports than exports.

Last month's statistics released by the Commerce Department Monday put the U.S. trade deficit at $1.7 billion for the first 11 months of 1971. That makes it nearly impossible for December's figures to prevent the first annual deficit since 1893.

The department said the November figure was influenced by dock strikes on the East and West coasts, but that it "does not have adequate information to enable it to specifically measure the influence of the strikes on the statistics."

The bureau said exports totaled $3.16 billion in November while imports totaled $3.39 billion.

Meanwhile, in domestic economic developments Monday:

—Chairman Preston Martin of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board predicted that mortgage money will be in plentiful supply, and perhaps a little cheaper, during 1972.

Martin said he expects conventional mortgage interest rates to stabilize at present levels, or even decline a bit.

He said mortgage commitments currently are being made at a national average of about 7.37 per cent, compared with an average of 7.79 per cent in November and the high of 8.52 per cent in August 1970.

—The Internal Revenue Service said retailers must prominently display their base prices by Sunday.

The IRS said it will not consider the base prices displayed prominently if a shopper can obtain access to them only by requesting base price information from the retailer or an employee.

The base price for retailers is the price charged during the 90-day wage-price freeze, usually that price that prevailed in the 30 days ending Aug. 14.

—The Price Commission denied a 1.9 per cent price increase sought by Swift & Co. for fertilizer products on grounds that it exceeded the commission's profit margin requirements.

Break-Ins And Thefts Keep Police Busy

One break-in, one attempted break-in and one tire theft were reported to police Tuesday morning.

The break-in was reported at the Moose Club, 202 East Third. Police reported the thief or thieves entered the building by climbing to the top of a building on the east side of the Moose building, then entering the building through a window.

A complete list of losses was not available at 1 p.m. Tuesday, but it was reported a substantial amount of bills, change and trade coins were missing. Walter McMillin, club secretary, made the report, according to police.

The attempted break-in was at Bings Supermarket on South Limit. Mike Parrish, 1724 South Barrett, a stockman at the store, said he was working in the back of the market when he heard glass breaking. He reported he ran to the front and found the glass broken out of one of the doors. He said he saw some cars moving around in the parking lot but they left before he could identify any of them.

Robert Spears, foreman at the Mike O'Connor Body Shop on South Limit, reported two tires and wheels, valued at $142.19, were stolen from a Camero left at the shop for repairs. The car is owned by Mark Horstman, Independence. The theft occurred sometime Monday night, Spears reported.

Clinics Fill Vital Need

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — If you never thought beyond "Very Important Person" when you read the letters "VIP" you're way behind the times. It's a new expression created to take the sting out of the unpalatable word "abortion." So now it also means "Voluntary Interruption of Pregnancy."

Since New York State made abortion legal we've had a large increase in visitors. Hospitals and abortion clinics report more than 90 per cent of their patients come from all parts of the United States and Canada. There are far too many patients and far too few hospital beds to meet the needs of the women who feel that abortion is what they want. And so the abortion clinic was the natural outcome of the act that made abortion legal.

Today's abortion clinics in New York are a far cry from sordid back rooms in filthy apartments. They are not abortion mills nor do they remotely resemble the unsterile facility depicted in the movie "Alfie."

Why is there a need for the abortion clinic? Dr. Michael Levi, clinical director of the O.B.G.Y.N. (obstetrics-gynecology) Associates, in Brooklyn, N.Y., explained why clinics are important.

"Women who are waiting for delivery and abortion patients can be lumped together in a hospital. Since their needs are different psychologically an outpatient clinic is more appropriate."

"The operation," said Swiss-born Dr. Levi, who is a well-known authority here in the United States on cancer immunology, obstetrics and gynecology, "should be performed in a facility that understands the physical and psychological problems involved in abortion. These problems aren't even clear in the minds of the women involved. Many have had illegal operations and don't even realize that their health and their dignity can now be ensured."

"The procedure," he continued, "should be done only by a certified gynecologist, holding a degree from the American Board of Gynecologists. The clinic chosen should be approved by the New York City Board of Health Abortion Rights Assn., made up of a qualified group of men who inspect the facilities in order to prove the standards are high. They have no ax to grind."

"There are problems involved in abortion," said Dr. Milton Walkes, administrator of the clinic, "that people are now aware of. For instance, a pregnancy of 46 days can still show a negative test result. When a girl comes in and says 'I am pregnant,' we get the specimen to our affiliated hospital where we know great care is taken regarding the test."

"On the other hand," Dr. Levi said, "in a clinic which turns out hundreds of patients a day, the patient must be immediately put on the table and it may happen that an abortion is performed that is not necessary."

"It is our judgment," he added, "that before an abortion is done the patient should have a complete physical examination, a pelvic examination by the surgeon who is going to do the procedure, and the decision made on a medical level as to whether the operation is required."

The law says that the woman who comes in must make the decision herself. She doesn't need anyone's consent — not even her husband's.

"And this," says Levi, "brings us to a new concept of medical practice. She makes the decision and the doctor does the service. It takes him off his pedestal. It's all between the skilled man who can do it and the woman who says 'I want it.' It's a 50-50 and not 100 per cent the doctor's way any more."

At hospitals, Dr. Levi said, the staff is mixed. And the attitude of the staff in many hospitals still judges the abortion issue on moral grounds. This is one of the reasons clinics exist.

"In a hospital where you have devout Catholic nurses, for examples," he said, "it is difficult for them to give understanding care. The nurses' hang-ups are going to be taken out on the lady who is there for an abortion. Some nurses have refused a woman her food. It happened to us. But it's easier for a clinic to weed out its staff."

If you're looking for a reliable abortion clinic, be sure you choose one that has an affiliation with a nearby hospital for that rare occasion when its facilities may be needed.

Dr. Levi came up with a frightening statistic whether one if for or against legal abortion. "The birthrate in New York has only declined a fraction of a per cent. This means that of the 200,000 who have had legal abortions about 190,000 would have had illegal abortions and about 50 per cent of these women would have had serious complications."

"Part of our procedure involves counseling," Dr. Walkes said. "We tell our patients emphatically that abortion is not a substitute for contraceptives. We explain the options regarding contraception and let the woman decide what type is best for her."

"As often as we can we use total anesthesia," Dr. Levi said. "It's impossible to do when there are hundreds of patients waiting — takes too much time, too much money and requires a resident anesthetist. But we prefer to do it that way for the mental and physical impact on the woman."

"If an abortion isn't handled properly," he added, "a woman will reject the man for a long time. If it is handled properly she will understand that the time for the baby was just not right. Sex is part of life and if that part of a relationship is destroyed you have alienation in the truest sense."

"There is a need," Levi said, "for organization which will give information to the woman as close to totality as is possible — centralized in a sense where there would be one place she could go to get any knowledge she needed as a woman."

"There are dedicated men," Levi said with a grin, "who want to make money. But they want to make it in a good way."

"The clinic is existing, it's helpful and it's needed. We happened to be there at the right time with the right skills. And it's a satisfying feeling."

Fashion on the Rails

AMTRAK uniforms are dull and drab no longer. Previewed in New York City recently, outfits of train personnel now are bright and stylish. Shown here from left to right, first is the engineer's uniform, a blue suit with brass buttons, wide belt, bellows pockets and red saddle stitching down the side of his trousers. Next, the AMTRAK's passenger service representative wears an evening outfit that reflects AMTRAK's desire to make passengers feel at home. It's a long side-slitted gown in red, and a white blouse. The ticket seller is garbed in the mod mode, but still conveys the years of tradition in the railroad industry. He sports a gingham shirt and tie and a red vest, and his ensemble also includes a white eyeshade and red, white and blue sleeve garters. AMTRAK's service inspector provides passenger service in red, white and blue check trousers. A layered look becomes the passenger service representative shown next. She can wear a white or blue turtle-neck, a red cardigan and a navy skirt or blue slacks. Last, the dining car steward wears a dinner suit in red. It is fitted, high-buttoned and has diagonally cut pockets.

DEAR POLLY — I used my good stainless steel sauce pan to pop corn and some of the popcorn burned on the bottom of the pan. I have tried cleanser, nylon net, scrubbers and soaking but nothing removes the marks. If anyone has had a similar problem I do hope they will help me. — Mrs. O.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with dairies. I wish they would sell buttermilk in pint-sized cartons as they do "half and half." ## Ring In New Year With This Punch

New Year Punch

Made with a punch mix plus orange-flavor liqueur and dry red wine to add spirit. (AP)

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want to serve a punch at a party, you can please two kinds of guests: those who want a spirited drink and those who prefer a beverage without alcohol. The following recipe gives both methods of preparation; you can make up a batch of each.

BELL RINGER PUNCH
1 envelope (6 ounces) instant openhouse punch mix
2 cups cold water
1 cup orange-flavor liqueur
1 cup dry red wine
1 large bottle (28 ounces) club soda, chilled

Unpeeled thin orange slices, halved
Gradually stir contents of envelope of punch mix into cold water; continue to stir until punch mix is completely dissolved. Add liqueur and wine; stir and chill.

Just before serving, pour chilled mixture over ice (1 tray of ice cubes or a 3-cup ice mold). Add club soda and mix lightly. Garnish with orange slices.

Makes about 2 quarts or about 16 four-ounce servings.
NOTE: For a non-alcoholic punch, prepare as above but omit orange-flavor liqueur and red wine; use 1½ quarts ginger ale.

Readers Rap About the Bra

Dear Readers: I didn't realize how many people had such intense feelings about the bra. A recent column berating the braless female who shamelessly bounced and flopped and went shopping for dresses without underwear (to the consternation of the salespeople) created a deluge of mail. The braless women demanded that they be heard. So let's listen — if they can lower their voices to a scream.

A reader from Richmond wrote: Since that creep has described us as cow-like creatures, it's only fair that you print the udder side. In your day, Grandmaw, bras were in. Today, they are out. Thank the Lord we are no longer ashamed of our bodies. Women have been liberated and we want the world to know. — Born Free

From San Juan: Wake up. The dolls who are wearing bras wear them for only one reason, they are padded with foam rubber. I say, if you've REALLY got it, flaunt it. — One Who's Got It

From Winnipeg: I was one of those idiots who had a beautiful full bosom when I was 17. I decided to discard my bra because the braless look was the "in" thing. That was three years ago and now I look like I've nursed six kids. My breast muscles couldn't support the weight. Sign me — Saggy And Sorry

Burlington, Vt.: Did it ever occur to you that not every girl who goes without a bra is trying to look sexy? Some of us don't NEED a bra. Not everyone is built like Raquel Welch and Sophia Loren. — Robbed

From Eau Claire: If a woman is normal she has breasts. If a man is normal he knows it. What's all the static about? — Hanging Loose in Wisconsin

From Chicago: The question "to bra or not to bra" can be easily answered if the undecided woman will apply this test to herself. Take an ordinary woodcase pencil. Put it under one breast. If the pencil stays there, you should wear a bra. If it falls, you can go braless. — One Who Flunked

From Denver: My husband does not like me to wear a bra. He says it makes me look too sexy. The natural look is less provocative, he claims. The bra pushes me up and out. So play that on your violin, Granny. — Unfettered

Dear One and All: Thanks for writing. I get the message. For those of you who want to let it all hang out — be my guest. I still say 95 per cent of the women look better with a bra than without one. Most of us ought to wear one for two very obvious reasons.

Dear Ann Landers: My problem has become so haunting that it's beginning to be an obsession. Please help me.

Preparing Plan For Crime Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — With strong bipartisan backing, a proposal is being readied for Senate action that would pay federal cash to victims of violent crime.

The "Victims of Crime Act of 1972" would establish a three-member board to compensate innocent victims of violent crimes, or their survivors, with up to $50,000 for medical bills, loss of earning power and funeral expenses. Compensation would depend on financial need.

The bill would apply primarily to crimes committed in the District of Columbia, on national parks and forests, Indian reservations and on airplanes and ships.

But beyond this, and more far-reaching, is a provision under which the federal government would pay 75 per cent of the cost of compensation programs established by the states in accord with federal standards.

Sponsors hope this would spur all states to have such programs within five or six years. Seven states already have.

The bill would also: —Subsidize life and disability insurance for policemen, firemen and prison guards, and provide a $50,000 federal death benefit for persons in those fields killed in line of duty.

—Establish antitrust-type court remedies for business victims of organized crime, permitting the federal government to intervene on behalf of victims in civil suits.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who has steered all of the major anticrime bills through the Senate in recent years, introduced the legislation shortly before Congress adjourned.

He said it consolidated the essential features of several measures on which his Senate Judiciary subcommittee on criminal laws and procedures has held hearings.

Joining McClellan in sponsoring the bill are the Senate leaders of both parties, Democrat Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. Judiciary Committee Chairman Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and the committee's ranking minority member, Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska.

So far, the administration has hesitated in supporting compensation for violent crime victims, saying it is still studying the idea. But some sponsors say they believe the administration eventually will back the bill.

Davis Sees Her Innocence as People's Victory

SEWERS GO ON TV

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — The sewers of South Africa's administrative capital are to go on television. Authorities hope to avoid unnecessary digging by using a TV camera designed to be pulled through the sewers to show cracks and other faults.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Black revolutionary Angela Davis says if she is acquitted of murder-kidnap charges it will be a victory for the people, not the judicial system.

However, she said, "if I am convicted, I will see the jurors as having been willing or unwilling accomplices in a conspiracy presented by the state."

As she prepares for trial Jan. 31, she worries that some people are supporting her only because they believe she had nothing to do with the bloody Aug. 7, 1970 shootout at the Marin County Civic Center in which four persons died.

"I had nothing to do with August 7th. That's true and that should be said and I say it also," she said.

But the 27-year-old self-described Communist and former UCLA philosophy instructor said Americans must understand the forces that led to those deaths—and work to eradicate them.

In an interview in a jail visiting room, Miss Davis said: "People have to realize, they have to see August 7th as being more or less a dramatization of things that had been festering under the surface in the prison system for so long.

"I think the fact that Ruchell (Mace) and James McClain and William Christmas had to attempt to gain their freedom in such a way—and I'm not saying that they had any intention of using any violence, and I think the facts will bear this out—it's important to understand what the forces are that led them to that point in the first place. Why?"

McClain and Christmas, both San Quentin convicts, were killed in an attempted escape from the courthouse. Their hostage, Superior Court Judge Harold Haley, and Miss Davis' constant companion, Jonathan Jackson, 17, also were killed and Mace was wounded.

Of Haley's death, Miss Davis said: "I'm very sorry . . . If we could have a revolution without shedding any blood, that's the way it should be."

"But when you look at that, when you compare that one act, when you compare that to say one act of rebellion in the black community, when you compare the hundreds and hundreds of years and the millions of people that have been killed, it just doesn't seem to me to be rational for someone to get so upset about one person that they fail to understand the other side."

"This I think, is the important thing, and this is going to be really difficult in the trial," she said.

If free today, Miss Davis said she would work to abolish the prison system.

Right now, however, her world is confined to two 6-by-8 foot cells in the Santa Clara County jail where she says she reads, writes, chainsmokes four packs of cigarettes a day and wears hiking boots and sweaters to keep warm.

She speaks about the isolation of being in jail and not being able "to feel and experience what's happening on the outside." She is under court order not to talk directly about the case.

Miss Davis is accused of furnishing the four guns and helping plot what the prosecution says was an abortive attempt to take hostages in exchange for the freedom of the Soledad Brothers—three black prisoners accused of murdering a white guard Jan. 16, 1970.

Miss Davis said she was in love with one of the Soledad Brothers, Jonathan's older brother George Jackson, who was killed at San Quentin Prison last Aug. 21 in what prison authorities called an abortive escape attempt.

"I felt an extremely profound personal love, man-woman love, as well as political love," she said. "You couldn't take the personal love out of context of the political love because it wouldn't have any meaning."

Miss Davis said George Jackson "personifies the struggle

Escalation Back in Vietnam Vocabulary

SAIGON (AP) — As the United States intensified its air attacks on North Vietnam's supply lines to Laos and South Vietnam, the North Vietnamese intensified their attacks on the American planes. Now the Americans are hitting back at the enemy's antiaircraft defenses in a big way.

The escalation of the air war revolves around two mountain passes on the border between North Vietnam and Laos, the Barthelmy and the Mu Gia passes. Guns, bullets and food flow from the interior of North Vietnam through the passes to North Vietnamese troops fighting in northern Laos, in South Vietnam and in Cambodia.

The United States has been hitting these two passes with hundreds of air strikes in efforts to slow the flow of war supplies. But as the United States increased its air strikes, the North Vietnamese increased their attacks on the American planes, trying to keep the passes open.

The Barthelmy pass lies on Highway 7, 150 miles southwest of Hanoi and 235 miles northwest of the demilitarized zone.

Supplies go through the pass to North Vietnamese troops fighting in northern Laos. Despite the heavy U.S. air strikes, the North Vietnamese captured the Plain of Jars last week and inflicted heavy losses on the Lao defenders.

The Mu Gia pass, 160 miles farther south, is the beginning of the Ho Chi Minh trail, the supply lifeline to North Vietnamese troops in southern Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam. The Ho Chi Minh trail is a complex network of unpaved roads, trails and waterways totaling nearly 3,000 miles, and U.S. strategists consider it better to strike it at its beginning, or "choke point," the farther the supplies get down the trail, the harder they are to intercept.

North Vietnam is said to have doubled the number of antiaircraft missiles and large-caliber guns guarding the Barthelmy and Mu Gia passes. And for the first time since the bombing halt three years ago, MIG jets are rising to harass U.S. planes.

Disturbed by the mushrooming buildup of antiaircraft defenses against the diminishing U.S. air forces in Southeast Asia and embarrassed by the loss of six planes since Dec. 10, the United States decided it would take a massive strike force to reduce the enemy threat. President Nixon ordered large-scale "protective reaction" strikes to begin Sunday and today.

There is no doubt that the United States has air superiority over North Vietnam's tiny air force. It is the ground antiaircraft defenses, the surface-to-air missiles and artillery, that worry the United States.

One U.S. officer said last week:

"They don't have the assets to make an all-out air confrontation. They're smart enough to know that if they push us too far, they'll wind up losing their whole damn air force. We can bring so much more to bear on them if they commit themselves to an all-out confrontation."

U.S. officials saw the massive strikes that began Sunday as a warning from Nixon: "Don't push us too far."

Gerrymandering is a legislative rearrangement of voting districts so that they favor the political party in power by creating new areas of support. The World Almanac notes that the term was coined after Massachusetts' Gov. Elbridge Gerry redistricted a county so that its shape resembled a salamander.

Nixon Will Shoot For the Moon

WASHINGTON — Is President Nixon going to peak too soon? There is some concern in Washington that after President Nixon goes to Peking and then to Moscow it will be hard for the Republicans to keep up interest in him until Election Day.

Not so, say the people who are programming the President's political campaign. The trips to Peking and Moscow are just warmups for the main event. Which will probably take place two weeks before Election Day.

Buchwald I can now report what the Republicans have in store for their candidate.

"This is Walter Cronkite speaking to you from Cape Kennedy, where final preparations are being made for a space shot to the moon. The astronauts have been suited up, and they are now coming out of their dressing room to board the trailer and... wait a minute! One of the men in an astronaut's suit looks like President Nixon.

Mike Eallace is down there by the trailer. Mike, doesn't one of the astronauts look exactly like President Nixon?"

"It IS President Nixon, Walter. Ron Ziegler has just informed us that the President has decided to visit the moon personally as a gesture toward world peace."

"Mike, is there any chance of speaking to the President?"

"I'll try, Walter. Mr. President, Mr. President, could you tell us why you have decided to go to the moon at this time?"

"Mike, I've always felt that the President can find out more about a situation if he goes there himself. Now this is not to downgrade our fine astronauts who have done a magnificent job in exploring the moon. But I feel that if I see the moon first hand, I will be able to make better decisions as far as our space program goes, and I will also be able to report personally to the American people as to what our position on the moon should be."

"Mr. President, who are you taking with you on the mission?"

"As you know, Mike, the Apollo space capsule can take three people including myself, and everyone wanted to go. Billy Graham made a strong case for going to the moon, as did Secretary Connally and Vice President Agnew, and I did have trouble with the Secret Service, who wanted to send 10 agents. The reporters from the White House insisted on sending a pool to cover the event. But I had to make a hard decision, a tough decision, a decision that probably no President of the United States has ever had to make before. I had to choose two people to go with me, and I concluded the two who would be the most helpful are Henry Kissinger and my wife Pat."

"How did you arrive at your choice, Mr. President?"

"Since the moon is considered a foreign matter, it seemed to me Henry Kissinger would be the most informed on the subject. Henry has been urging me to go to the moon and felt the climate was right after he made a secret trip there himself last May. As for Pat, ever since we first started dating, she has always expressed a great interest in the moon, and I believe it's important for America that the First Lady accompany the President on an historic trip of this kind."

"Mr. President, are there any political implications to be read in your decision to go to the moon just two weeks before Election Day?"

"Mike, there are always going to be people who say that everything I do has a political motive. I know they're going to accuse me of making a grandstand play, and they're going to say I'm trying to steal the headlines for election purposes."

"But my answer to them, Mike, is that the bag of rocks I bring back from the moon will benefit ALL Americans. Democrats as well as Republicans, the old as well as the young, the poor as well as the rich, the blacks as well as the whites, the farmers in Texas, the factory workers in Michigan, our brave men overseas in the armed forces, the people who live in New York as well as the people who live in California. I intend to do what no other American President has done since the creation. And if that's politics, let them make the most of it."

Picking TV 'News' Is Crucial

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

WASHINGTON — Edith Efron's book, "The News Twisters," came forth from the Nash Publishing Co. on October 11. Since then, the shells have been flying. Her thesis is that the three television networks were guilty of gross bias during the presidential campaign of 1968.

The thesis, of course, is valid. Any English-speaking adult, possessed of eyes, ears and access to a television set, must know the thesis is valid. To a considerable extent—though not as blatantly as before—the situation documented by Miss Efron continues to this day.

The value of Miss Efron's book lies not so much in its elaborate documentation, though this was indispensable to her work. Her greater contribution lies in a pathological dissection of the body of "news" as such. She compels us to think upon these things, and these things are immensely important to the whole process of opinion formation in our country.

What is "news"? God alone knows. At some point in his life, every editor, reporter and professor of journalism struggles to compose a satisfactory definition. None has wholly succeeded. David Brinkley came closest, perhaps, in his laconic remark that "news is what I say it is." But the trouble with epigrams is that they yield something of truth to the virtue of brevity. It is not quite so brutally simple.

Even so, Brinkley has it just about right. The essence of news lies in the process of selection. A happening, in itself, is not news; it is not news until it is reported. And who decides whether a happening should be reported? Who selects this happening in preference to some other happening? An editor's honest answer, just as Brinkley says, is "I do."

When it comes to putting together a prime-time network news program, this process of selection is what the game is all about—and the process is unbelievably complex. There are dull days and big days. A happening that might be used on Monday is thus not used on Tuesday. Some happenings lend themselves to visual presentation; others don't. TV is partly show biz; there has to be something light. Producers, writers and anchor men are prisoners of the clock. But when the red light signals air time in the studio, someone has to have made the decisions. This is news tonight; and this is not.

Such decisions have to be personal; no computer can make them. They are the products of professional judgment, but that is merely another way of saying that they are personal opinions. Miss Efron's point is that in 1968, the judgments—or opinions—resulted in a lopsided liberal bias in the network news.

Her documentation provides a thousand telling examples. One issue in the fall of 1968 was U.S. policy toward the war in Vietnam. During the seven-week period of her study, CBS carried one item only in support of that policy. This was a 287-word excerpt from a speech by Lyndon Johnson on October 9. But CBS carried 20 items in this period, totaling 651 words on 13 different evenings, in which the policy was opposed.

Look at the record more closely. It was "news" in the judgment of CBS that the war was opposed by John Gilligan of Ohio, George Ball, Senator Morse and Eldridge Cleaver.

This was not news at ABC. At ABC, which carried 413 words in support of the war, it was news—1,476 words of news—that Senator Fulbright, Paul O'Dwyer, Senator McCarthy, Senator Javits, Dick Gregory and Vanessa Redgrave opposed the war.

None of this, in turn, was news at NBC. Oddly, NBC reported no news whatever—not a single word in seven weeks—in defense of the war policy; but it was news at NBC, to the tune of 1,017 words, that the war was opposed by, among others, Tom Hayden of the SDS, the president of Yale and a Connecticut matron.

This is not a pattern of news; it is a pattern of bias—and for this pattern the network news executives have to be held accountable. As we move into the 1972 campaign, viewers of the evening news will want to keep the pattern of 1968 in mind, and be wary.

Mao-Think Needed To Curb Births?

An extraordinary document on the population problem has been mailed to this newspaper, courtesy of the Board of Christian Social Concerns of the United Methodist Church.

The booklet consists of several articles on population control practices in Communist China, compiled by two family planning organizations in the United States.

Why extraordinary? First, because the writings included here are transparent Chinese Communist propaganda, tied together by the thin thread of population control. That the Victor-Bostrom Fund and the Population Crisis Committee should select them to carry their message is rather astounding.

And that the United Methodist Church should offer this Marxist blueprint for population control—without qualification—as worthy of emulation in this country is nothing less than appalling.

Of the nine articles appearing in the booklet, six are written by either Chinese Communist authors or apologists for the Peking brand of Marxism, such as journalist Edgar Snow.

There is no denying that Communist China is making great strides in controlling its runaway population. Since 1967 birth control has received the official blessing of Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai.

Methods of achieving this goal include a step-up in the omnipresent, suffocating Red Chinese propaganda effort, the creation of village birth control teams, and the wide availability of contraceptive pills and abortion services. In the mid-60's the government went so far as to deny clothing ration tickets for a third newborn baby and to refuse to register marriages that the authorities considered premature.

Today approaches are more subtle, according to several articles in the booklet. The emphasis is on "social pressures" (government manufactured) to encourage birth control, and, as a Chinese medical journal puts it, "educating the people's thoughts."

Birth control is receiving increasing emphasis in this country, but so far we have stopped short of an authoritarian approach. Let's keep it that way, and leave Mao and his thoughts to the Chinese.

Cambodia's Leader Said Incompetent

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The Vietnam story, like a rerun of a bad movie, is repeating itself across the border in Cambodia.

Cambodian strongman Lon Nol has plunged his government into disarray. His top aides have sought, in vain, to persuade him to step down. Now they are talking ominously of a coup.

The military effort to stop a Communist takeover is floundering. Communist forces have now surrounded Cambodia's capital, Phnom Penh, on three sides.

The U.S., typically, is trying to solve the crisis by rushing more supplies to bail out Lon Nol. Because of congressional opposition, some supplies are being sneaked through the back door by way of Indonesia. The U.S. is also bringing pressure upon other allies to come to Lon Nol's aid.

A secret intelligence report, meanwhile, describes him as "a sick man, both physically and mentally... His memory is faulty, and he tends to make snap judgments without reference to anything anyone has told him."

No less than American Ambassador Emory Swank, in a report intended for official U.S. eyes only, has criticized "Lon Nol's haphazard, out-of-channel and ill-coordinated conduct of military operations."

Swank blames recent Cambodian military reverses, costing "substantial losses of men and equipment," upon "ineffective leadership and tactics."

Another intelligence report describes most Cambodian general officers as "simply incompetent." It states that only one top general, besides Lon Nol, "has the ability and force of personality to exercise leadership" at the chief of staff level.

He is identified as Brig. Gen. Srey Saman, now Cambodia's defense attaché in Jakarta, the Indonesian capital. But the report adds sadly that "Srey Saman's personal authority is diluted by a tendency toward financial corruption."

Two other top officers, Brig. Gen. Sosthene Fernandez and Brig. Gen. Mao Sum Khem, are also called "technically incompetent." But the report charges "both have personal weaknesses which prevent them from exercising effective control over unit commanders."

"Sosthene Fernandez is an inveterate gambler, while Mao Sum Khem is a compulsive womanizer. Neither activity is in itself disqualifying, but in these two cases, so much time is consumed and so much corrupt activity is required to finance the activity that they have lost an essential measure of the respect required to exert real leadership."

The personnel chief, Brig. Gen. Peolim Var, is accused by the report of sending inspection teams, which "are bought off by commanders of the units whose payrolls they are supposed to verify."

These sound distressingly like the secret reports of South Vietnamese incompetence and corruption that U.S. officials have tried to keep from the public.

The Communist drive on Phnom Penh, according to U.S. estimates, was intended as a psychological rather than a military operation. Apparently, the Communists never expected any real military success but intended to withdraw to their former positions after harassing the city.

Cambodian bungling, however, has turned a hit-and-run psychological attack into a real military threat.

Declares one secret military assessment: "Enemy forces have continued to maintain pressure on Phnom Penh. Their presence in strength has generated concern; yet government forces to date have been unable to react effectively..."

"The enemy's efforts appear directed at psychologically eroding the morale of the populace while gradually weakening and demoralizing (Cambodian) units around Phnom Penh... (Cambodian) failure to take aggressive action has allowed (the enemy) to attempt to keep up the momentum both in the capital area and elsewhere in the country..."

These dispatches read like the secret reports that came out of South Vietnam during the 1960s.

Footnote: Lon Nol's top ministers called on him at his residence on December 7 and suggested that he relinquish some of his authority. "Lon Nol rejected these proposals out-of-hand..." reports Ambassador Swank. "He refused to relinquish personal direction of military affairs, ascribed recent reverses to inadequate South Vietnamese military support and the limitations on U.S. assistance, and lectured the group on the need to recruit and equip 50,000 new soldiers using whatever in-country or third-country resources are available..." (The ministers) reportedly received this lecture in silence and did not defend their views.

Pakistan's new President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto and Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban ended up side by side at the United Nations dinner honoring outgoing Secretary General Thant the other night.

The UN had passed overwhelmingly the ceasefire resolution proposed by Bhutto to end the war between India and Pakistan. The resolution, of course, came too late to stop India from seizing control of East Pakistan.

Eban congratulated Bhutto on the solid majority he had gotten for the ceasefire resolution. Replied Bhutto ruefully: "I would rather have the territory without the resolution than the resolution without the territory."

As the year draws to a close it seems appropriate to discuss one of our boobos. Today's hand appeared in September as an example of getting to seven in spite of interference. The seven heart contract is a good one but it falls one trick short because East holds five diamonds to the 10.

How can a losing bid be a good one? Not from the result but rather from the fact that South belongs in seven hearts and will make that contract more than three-quarters of the time. Remember you don't make all your contracts unless you underbid scandalously.

When we first wrote up this hand the 10 of diamonds was in the North hand. Somewhere along the way it hopped over to East with disastrous results as pointed out by hundreds of readers.

Now for a little fun. Leave that 10 of diamonds over in the East hand. Shift the eight and six of spades between North and South and the hand makes in spite of the diamond situation. Not that it would be likely to make at the table, but if South ruffs his deuce of clubs, draws trumps and leads the queen of spades he has developed what might be called a super-Vienna coup.

West can't afford to duck so he covers. This sets up two of East's spades as high, but when South takes his last two trumps poor East must either unguard his 10 of diamonds or set up South's eight of spades as a winner.

MU, Buffs Win Openers

KU Opens Defense of Title

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas opens defense of its Big Eight conference preseason basketball tournament crown tonight against Iowa State, one of the favorites in this 26th renewal of the four-day derby.

The Jayhawks, with a 3-4 record, go into the tourney with their poorest showing since 1961. They also have the league's worst shooting percentage of 41 per cent.

In tonight's other game, Kansas State, 4-5, opposes Oklahoma, 3-3.

Kansas Coach Ted Owens may juggle his lineup against the Cyclones, coached for the first time by Maury John. He may shift Wilson Barrow to center in place of Randy Canfield and insert Mark Mathews at forward.

Colorado and once-beaten Missouri scored victories Monday night in the opening doubleheader of the first round. The Buffs, 2-6, tripped Oklahoma State, 83-62. Missouri, 8-1, rolled over Nebraska, 76-64. Oklahoma State is 1-6, Nebraska 5-5.

Owens says whether he makes lineup changes "depends on the situation and who Iowa State goes with. We have to go with size against some of the more physical teams. With the smaller guys playing, I think we have a better lineup for certain situations. They're better for pressure, and they shoot better."

Kansas has won 10 Big Eight tournaments in the last quarter of a century. Under Owens, the Jayhawks have won five times in seven tries.

Iowa State, led by Gene Mack and junior college transfer Martinez Demmon, has won 5 and lost 4.

Colorado held the Cowboys scoreless for four minutes, three seconds and shot its way to a 9-0 lead. It was never really a contest, although the Cowboys pulled up to 15-10 with 11:03 left in the first half on eight straight points after the Buffs had moved ahead 15-2. Lee Haven, with 18 points, Jerome Wright with 15 and Jim Creighton with 14 were too much for State.

Ralph Rasmuson began to hit for Oklahoma State after the intermission but he wasn't enough. The Cowboys trailed at one stage by 25 points. Rasmuson led all scorers with 21.

Colorado Coach Sox Walseth said this was the Buffs' best game over-all.

"We've got a lot of kids that have never played before," Walseth said. "It takes a while to get experience. There's no secret... we just played well for us."

"Our sophomores had stage fright," said Cowboy Coach Sam Aubrey. "We can't do anything but get better after that showing."

Missouri, with sophomore Al Eberhard getting 17 points, had five players in double figures against the Cornhuskers, who outscored the Tigers from the floor, 24-23.

The Tigers built a 7-1 lead, holding Nebraska to a free throw until Chuck Jura hit a two-pointer with 4:40 gone. The Cornhuskers tied it at 18-18 with 5:34 remaining in the half on Jura's goal, but John Brown hit a basket and Mike Jeffries followed with two charity tosses for Missouri.

The Tigers had a 15-point advantage with 9:27 left but eight straight Nebraska points, including Al Nissen's three-point play, cut it to 55-48.

Nebraska closed to five points three times thereafter but could get no closer. Nissen led all scorers with 21 points and Jura got 19 plus 15 rebounds.

Norm Stewart, the Missouri coach, said the Tigers "were a bit rusty. We didn't show a lot of poise. We did not play very good basketball but a lot of that can be attributed to Nebraska."

Coach Joe Cipriano of Nebraska said Missouri's "defense really bothered us. I was surprised Eberhard did as well as he did for a sophomore. I thought he played like a veteran."

The championship will be decided Thursday night.

Battle for Rebound

Everyone tries to get into the act of rebounding on a foul shot missed by Colorado's Jim Creighton (14) during the opening game of the Big 8 Basketball Tournament, Monday night, in Kansas City. The Buffs gained control of the ball, turned it into two points and went on to win over Oklahoma State, 83-62. (UPI)

Arizona State Gets Late Bowl Victory

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Larry Jones, in his first year as head coach of the Florida State University football team, would have been happier if Monday's Fiesta Bowl had ended 34 seconds sooner.

"I don't feel that there's a loser in a game like this," Jones commented following the post-season inaugural game, which his Seminoles lost 45-38 to the Arizona State University Sun Devils. "It's really too bad that the game didn't end in a tie."

The score was 38-38 in the closing minutes. But with 34 seconds left on the clock, sophomore halfback Woody Green scored his third touchdown of the afternoon on a one-yard plunge to lead the Devils to the 45-38 victory.

The game was actually tied four times, and the lead bounced back and forth eight times.

ASU coach Frank Kush wasn't too pleased with the performance turned in by his defensive secondary, which allowed FSU to gain 361 yards passing.

"Our secondary didn't do a good job at all, but against a team like Florida State, I guess that happens," he said.

Kush also felt that the Devils had "some lucky breaks."

Gary Huff, the junior quarterback for Florida State, lived up to his regular season laurels as the nation's top offensive player by picking up a total of 386 yards, with 347 yards coming off 25 pass completions.

For his efforts, Huff was named the game's Most Valuable Player on offense.

Picking up the defensive hon was Junior Ah You, defensive end for the Sun Devils. Ah You had two unassisted tackles and helped out on five others as he led ASU's defensive efforts.

FSU's All-America wide receiver Rhett Dawson caught three passes for touchdowns as he continued to be the club's biggest scoring threat.

Dawson scored the first one on a 14-yard pass from flanker Kent Gaydos, and the other two from Huff, one from 10 yards out and the other from 25 yards out.

Kicker Frank Fontes picked up 12 points for FSU on three field goals and three conversions. Fontes had been ranked No. 8 in kick scoring during the regular season.

Elsewhere Monday night, the South edged the North 7-6 in the Shrine Game at Miami. Florida's Tommy Durrance cracked over from a yard out in the fourth period for the tying touchdown and Tennessee's Bobby Majors booted the winning point, his first conversion attempt since high school. Maurie Daigneau of Northwestern tossed a one-yard pass to Iowa State's Bob Richardson in the second period for the North's touchdown but Duke's Ernie Jackson blocked the conversion try.

Tonight, 11-0 Toledo puts its 34-game winning streak on the line against 5-5 Richmond in the Tangerine Bowl.

UCLA Bruins Retain Lead in Cage Voting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Most college basketball teams relaxed last week and the inaction was reflected in The Associated Press weekly poll, which showed little movement among the nation's Top Ten teams.

Wrestling Action Returns Tonight

Professional wrestling returns to the Convention Hall ring tonight, with a four-event, all-heavyweight program, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Heading the lineup will be a clash between the Stomper, 265, and Kansas Bob Orton, 255. They're pitted over the best of three falls.

Matched in the semifinal event are undefeated Omar Atlas and Benny Ramirez.

The Viking will oppose Tor Kamata in the special event, while Apache Gringo and Ronnie Etchison will tangle in the opener.

UCLA remained No. 1 with 28 first place votes and 676 total points in voting by The AP panel. The other seven first place ballots went to Marquette, which accumulated 628 points for second place.

South Carolina, North Carolina, Southern California and Ohio State hold down the next four slots—no change from last week's poll.

Then comes Indiana, up one notch to seventh place, ahead of Brigham Young, which slipped to eighth. St. John's, N.Y. took over ninth place and Long Beach State dropped to 10th.

The second ten had three new members—Hawaii and West Virginia tied for No. 18 and Tennessee No. 20. Dropping out were Florida State, Jacksonville and Ohio University.

Virginia enjoyed the biggest jump of the week. The Cavaliers, unbeaten in seven games, moved from No. 18 to No. 11. Louisville, 19th a week ago, moved up to No. 15.

The top 20 with first place votes in parentheses, won-lost records through Saturday night and total points on the basis of 20 for first, 18 for second, 16, 14, 12, 10, 9, 8, etc. through 15 places:

Two Games Wednesday

Soccer Set for Jennie Jaynes

Plans fell through on the First-Annual Smith-Cotton Invitational Soccer Tournament scheduled for Wednesday at Jennie Jaynes Stadium, but there will be a pair of soccer games anyway.

SC will be joined by Pattonville (5-1-2) and Kansas City Rockhurst (2-1-1), who has won the Metro Seven Soccer League championship for the past three years, in Wednesday's action.

Rockhurst will face Pattonville in the opener at 10:30 a.m., while the Tigers (1-3-0) will meet Pattonville in an afternoon contest, scheduled for 1:30.

Pattonville is currently the leading team in the St. Louis Soccer League, and during their eight games they have given up only 10 goals.

Offensively Pattonville boasts the talents of inside right sophomore Mark Aubuchon, who has six goals and nine assists to his credit already this season.

Center forward Tony Bussa and inside left Tim Vietor also have six goals a piece to their credit; both have five assists apiece as well.

Smith-Cotton's meeting with Pattonville will be the second since S-C adopted what has turned out to be the only out-state soccer program in Missouri last year. In their meeting in the 1970-71 season in the first round of the Missouri State High School Activities Association's state tournament, Pattonville whipped the Tigers, 6-1.

The Bengals will have to get past center half Rick Stepp, touted as one of the top defensemen in the St. Louis area.

S-C's match with Pattonville is the only regular season, non-league game scheduled this year.

The Bengals resume Metro Seven Soccer League play on Jan. 8 in Kansas City in a contest against Pembroke Country Day.

Capossela No Longer Heard

By FRANK ECK AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

There was gaiety and sadness on the final day of the long New York thoroughbred racing season. A crowd of 25,380 bettors put $3.6 million through the mutual wickets hoping to get even. The sadness was the thought of hearing Freddie Capossela for the last time saying "It is now post time."

Nobody seems quite sure exactly how many races Cappy called on the New York circuit which covers Aqueduct, Belmont and Saratoga and used to include Jamaica and the Empire City track at Yonkers.

For 37 years, Fred Capossela had been at the microphone. He was a master craftsman at calling races because he never bet on any of the horses. Yet, at age 69 his voice still had that exciting ring of authority. It was a thrill to hear him call a race at the track, or sit back and listen to him give a rundown over television.

It always was enjoyable about five minutes before post time when knots of people in discussions would scatter to the windows as Cappy broke in with "The horses are on the track."

His voice was like a warning to let the better know he had better hurry to the window or get shut out.

Cappy always was an early arrival at the track. He looked over past performances to see what horses would be most likely to break early from the starting gate, he checked the colors of jockey silks on the program and the weights to make certain the information going over the public address system would be correct. He would walk around the press box, saying "hello" to all the regulars.

When a new man came on the scene to cover the day's racing, Cappy would get an introduction and right away the new man knew he had another friend. Cappy was that way. He liked everybody.

SPRINGFIELD — For the second time in less than a month, the Smith-Cotton Tigers will take on Springfield Parkview, S.C., who drew a first-round bye in the Springfield Glendale Holiday Basketball Tournament, will meet the undefeated Vikings in tonight's 9 p.m. semifinal contest.

Parkview, now 8-0 on the year, whipped crosstown rival Kickapoo, 68-56, in Monday night's opening round of the tourney.

Wade Palmer tossed in 20 points to lead the Vikings' attack; Kirk May was tops for Kickapoo with 17.

Springfield's domination over foes in the Central Missouri Conference continued Monday night as host Glendale rolled over Jefferson City in the tourney opener, 87-46.

CMC schools are now winless in eight games so far this year in competition with Springfield opponents.

Tom Schultz was the leading scorer in the game with 24 for Glendale. Mike Hopkins hit for 16 on the Jays' side of the ledger.

One of Parkview's victories is a 57-50 decision over the Tigers; the Vikings helped open S-C's season on Dec. 7, but it was not a happy event for S-C due to the loss.

"They (Parkview) didn't do anything any different last night than they did against us," noted Tigers' coach Jim Dinsdale as he geared himself for tonight's encounter, meaning that Smith-Cotton will have to find a way to puncture the Vikings' zone in the semifinal contest.

S-C's lineup may remain unchanged for last week's conference loss to Columbia, however, Dinsdale did indicate that forward Bob England was pushing hard to get back his starting berth from sophomore Jim Sanders.

Steve Herzberg, who snapped out of his early-season slump in the Columbia game, will team with either England or Sanders on the front line; junior pivot man Kim Anderson will be in the post, while Doug Maple and Don Tatman will round out the starting lineup in the back court.

The winner of tonight's S-C, Parkview game will advance to the championship of the tourney against the winner of the Glendale, West Plains battle, which is also set for tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Also on tonight's card is the consolation battle between Jefferson City and Kickapoo at 6 p.m.

Senior Dan Pflueger of Salem, Wis., at 6-foot-8, is one of the tallest athletes in Air Force Academy history.

NCU Keeps Up Busy Pace, Top Harvard

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

In a season usually reserved for a ho, ho, ho, North Carolina presented a huff, huff, huff, and still managed a convincing 96-78 college basketball victory over Harvard Monday night.

The fourth-ranked Tar Heels, just back from a successful tour of Spain and playing their fourth game in five nights, forgot their weariness to wear down their Ivy League visitors in one of the few non-Christmas-tournament games played.

"Our boys had to be very tired for this game," said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith, "but I was very proud of the job they did against Harvard. I think the team played very well under the circumstances."

The team arrived home Sunday after winning its Christmas Tournament in Spain last week—getting the jump on the tourneys in this country which got started Monday. But there was no breather for the tired Tars, who barely had time to unpack before going up against Harvard.

North Carolina got 28 points and 14 rebounds from 6-foot-10 Robert McAdoo and jumped out to an early lead that it never relinquished. And surprisingly, NC used a fast break attack most of the night—a strategy you wouldn't expect from a team that was supposed to be tired.

The Tar Heels' neighbors from South Carolina—the two are close both geographically and in The Associated Press poll as well, protected its No. 3 ranking with an 87-69 romp over Fairfield in the opening round of the Quaker City Classic at Philadelphia.

In other first round games of the Quaker City tourney, Tennessee, ranked No. 20, topped Manhattan 76-70, Boston College edged LaSalle 62-61 and Villanova ripped Massachusetts 100-83.

South Carolina made 16 of its first 22 shots from the floor and the deadly Gamecock accuracy sunk Fairfield. Kevin Joyce led the early surge, making eight of his first nine shots from the floor and finishing with 21 points. Tom Riker had 23.

The only other member of the Top Ten to see action Monday was second-ranked Marquette which defeated Georgetown 88-

44 in the opening round of the Milwaukee Classic. In the other first round test, Marshall, ranked No. 17, edged Wisconsin 85-83.

Marquette suffered through a first half in which it shot a mere 20 per cent from the floor but bounced back after intermission against Georgetown.

Jim Chones, who had just one point in the first 20 minutes, finished with 17, tops for the Warriors. 7-0. Allie McGuire, who missed 11 straight shots in the first half, hit four quick ones at the start of the second half to key a 22-2 Marquette spurt that put the game out of reach.

Marshall, 8-0, was down 10 points at the half but bounced back, tying the score on Randy Noll's three-point play with 91 seconds left. Then Mike D'Antoni's 20-footer with five seconds left won it for the Thundering Herd.

In the Holiday Festival at New York, Louisville, ranked No. 15, walloped Syracuse 103-81 with Jim Price's 26 points leading the offense. In other opening round games, Providence whipped Penn State 81-65, Fordham took Utah 74-67 and St. Peter's of New Jersey topped Duke 77-74.

Host St. Louis University and Chicago Loyola advanced to the finals of the St. Louis Invitational with decisive victories.

Carlos Martinez keyed a string of 11 straight St. Louis points that gave the Billikens the lead for keeps in a 95-70 victory against Yale. Martinez finished with 19 points, one less than teammate Rich Stallworth. Mike Baskauskas hit 30 for Yale.

Chicago Loyola took Southern Methodist 102-78 with Larue Martin hitting 27 points and Nate Mayes adding 22.

Oklahoma City used four straight free throws in the final 16 seconds by Larry Trimble to whip North Texas State 85-79 in the opening round of the All College Tournament. Marvin Rich had 29 points for OCU while Ephraim McDaniel hit 30 for the losers.

In the other opening round game of the All College, guards Bob Sherwin and John O'Malley combined for 46 points to lead Army past Indiana State 83-75. Sherwin finished with 25 and O'Malley had 21.

Making Shambles of League

Bill Sharman Makes LA Lakers Go in the NBA

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

SAN FRANCISCO — (NEA)

— The blackboard in the dressing room of the Los Angeles Lakers still carried the symbols of Bill Sharman's play-calling hieroglyphics, with the unique nomenclature that only the Lakers would understand.

"Our 2 No. 1 for Cazzie"
"No. 2 Triangle or Reverse"
"C Series (for Nate)"
"O.B. Plays"

And executing the way Sharman wanted them to, the Lakers had neatly nicked another notch in their record-breaking run of victories — the hottest team in the history of the National Basketball Association.

Sharman, who was a very precise shooter himself when he was an all-star guard for the Boston Celtics and the most accurate gunner these eyes have ever seen, is a stickler for controlled conditions in an age of helter-skelter basketball. This is his first year as coach of the Lakers, and the transformation has been miraculous.

Not in personnel, because they're winning with the same people who never jelled into a smooth unit in recent seasons — Wilt Chamberlain, physically awesome, as he has been for a dozen years, but completely transformed as a basketball personality; Jerry West, 33 years old and injury-scarred but getting adequate relief when he needs it; Gail Goodrich, mighty mite at 6-1 but no longer hearing that he's not big enough for pro basketball.

These are the key producers. Add to them an emergent Jim McMillian, given a chance to play regularly when Elgin Baylor was persuaded to retire, steady scorer Happy Hairston, such important reserves as Flynn Robinson, Pat Riley, Leroy Ellis, and the Lakers have the kind of balance needed to win in the NBA.

Sharman provided two qualities elemental to team sports — discipline and a philosophy. The discipline showed early when he whipped the Lakers into the best playing condition of their lives and has maintained it with daily practice sessions because it was vital to the Sharman playing doctrine: RUN, RUN, RUN.

Way back when he was a member of the perennial championship Celtics, Sharman perceived a simple formula for success: a big man (Bill Russell in his time) to clear the boards, the other guys to run like hell down the other end and pick up the basket before the other team would get organized.

"We've got the depth now," says Sharman, "so we can run more."

The key was getting Chamberlain to adapt his style. Wilt was always a power off the boards, but he wasn't much for whipping an outlet pass downcourt to set up the fast break. That's because most teams on which Wilt played waited for him to get downcourt, too, and deliberately set up around him since he was the most prolific scorer in the history of the game. That Chamberlain doesn't exist any more. He'll go an entire game without initiating a shot. Five other guys on the Lakers are scoring at a better average.

Yet Wilt is more valuable than ever and happy in subordinating himself. "I think," says Sharman, "he got a bum rap in being called uncoachable. He's getting that first pass out so that it's automatic now. You know, Wes Unseld turned Baltimore around when he first came into the league by doing the same thing."

The other facet of Chamberlain's value is defense. Zone defense is verboten in pro basketball, but Wilt is playing a virtual one-man zone under the hoops, batting away shots and discouraging other teams from driving through the key. Al Attles, the coach of the Golden State Warriors claims a change in the goal-tending rule — it's only enforced when the shot is blocked on the downward arc — has made Chamberlain impregnable under the basket. He'll gamble more in blocking shots, knowing that goal-tending won't be called as often.

Then it's pass the ball, zip, to the scurrying guards, West and Goodrich, and the tempo of play turns the Lakers' way. Sharman gives them the patterns, in his blackboard sessions, on how to deploy to get the best results. But even the players say that aspect of his coaching is overplayed.

The main thing he has given them is team unity, which may not sound so deep — until you get five guys averaging $100,000 a year to play together.

Hannibal, Kirksville In Championship Tilt

MARSHALL — Hannibal stretched their season's record to 8-2 here Monday night, in the opening round of the four-team, Marshall Holiday Tournament with an 82-71 victory over Kirksville.

virtual tie for third place in the Eastern Division, one game behind the Floridians. Meanwhile, Dallas, the Western Division cellar-dwellers, climbed to within one game of idle fourth-place Denver.

Rick Barry's 38 points helped the Nets snap their own three-game losing streak and the Floridians' four-game win skein. Rookie John Roche sank three of four free throws in the final 20 seconds to seal the victory while Bill Paultz and Bill Melchionni each added 20 points for the Nets.

Warren Jabali and Larry Jones tallied 22 apiece for the Floridians, who went down to defeat before their largest crowd of the season, 5,124.

Rich Jones led Dallas with 27 points as the Chaps built a 10-point lead in the final period and then staved off a Pittsburgh rally. John Brisker, who sparked the rally along with George Thompson, led the Condors with 17 points.

Havlicek Bucket Sinks Warriors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
John Havlicek is tough enough for 47 minutes and 59 seconds, but in that final second he's pure murder.

The Boston Celtics' star beat Detroit earlier this season with a basket at the buzzer and Monday night he did it to the Golden State Warriors 99-97 with a long turnaround jump shot as time ran out.

In the only other National Basketball Association games, Philadelphia held off Buffalo 121-112 and Atlanta downed Portland 135-121.

Havlicek tied the score with 16 seconds left on a jump shot and the Warriors worked the ball for the last shot. Cazzie Russell misfired on a 25-footer, Boston's Don Nelson grabbed the rebound and passed to Havlicek, who turned and fired as the buzzer sounded.

Havlicek and Nate Thurmond of the Warriors shared scoring honors with 28 points apiece.

Atlanta and Portland were tied at halftime but Herm Gilliam of the Hawks scored 11 of his 17 points in the third period to help his team pull away. Gilliam, subbing for the ailing Pete Maravich, hit two field goals late in the period to give the Hawks a four-point lead and the Blazers never threatened thereafter.

Lou Hudson, the scoring leader with 31 points, led a fourth-quarter flurry as the Hawks built their lead to 25 points. Geoff Petrie paced the losers with 23.

Billy Cunningham, Bob Rule and Kevin Loughery led the way as Philadelphia ended a six-game losing streak and extended Buffalo's string of losses to the same number. Cunningham scored 26 points, Rule 25 and Loughery 21.

The 76ers led by 19 after three periods before Fred Hilton, who scored 21 points in only 23 minutes, and Randy Smith led a Buffalo rally that sliced the margin to eight points, but no closer. Smith paced the Braves with 24 points.

Report New Bombing Device in Vietnam

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two scientists who visited South Vietnam in August said Monday that the Air Force is using a relatively new bomb in Southeast Asia that is so intense its concussion kills everything within a radius of 3,280 feet.

The bomb, which produced a mushroom cloud, was developed primarily for the instant creation of clearings in dense jungle which can be used as landing zones for assault helicopter," the scientists said.

But they added they had learned the bomb had been used as an antipersonnel explosive. They said they received confirmation of this from a high official at the U.S. Embassy in Saigon.

They said they were told by the Air Force the bomb was used two or three times a week.

The report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science's 138th annual meeting came from Dr. E. W. Pfeiffer, a zoologist at the University of Montana, and Dr. Arthur H. Westing, biology department chairman at Windham College in Putney, Vt. Their paper was titled "Impact of Modern Weaponry Development on the Human Environment in Indochina."

The two men said they visited Vietnam on a mission for the Scientists Institute for Public Information, a group based in New York whose current president is Margaret Mead, the anthropologist.

Pfeiffer and Westing said most information about the bomb, referred to as a "commando vault" and "an explosive bulldozer," is not classified but they added that the Air Force was being quiet about its use and does not mention it in its official communications. They quoted a senior Seventh Air Force officer, at a briefing in Saigon in August, as saying: "It's such a devastating weapon we hate to give it much publicity."

A film showing the bomb exploding was shown to them, the two men said, but they said the Air Force refused to provide them with a copy. The scientists said they obtained a copy elsewhere and released two photographs of the mushroom cloud effect of the concussive blast, at about 30 seconds and about one minute after detonation.

Four or five times during their visit, Pfeiffer and Westing said, they heard military men refer to the weapon, saying: "It's the next best thing to a nuke." In their report, the two scientists said the weapon "provides a concussive blast surpassed only by that of a nuclear bomb." Pfeiffer, in an interview before his formal presentation said the bomb creates a "lethal zone" covering of 750 acres in which everything—trees, wildlife and any humans who might be there—is killed. An injury zone extends beyond the lethal radius by another 1,500 feet.

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman said the bomb has been used for some time and there has been no secret about it. He declined to discuss the blast range but said one kilometer is "way off."

The bomb's concussion effects serve to knock down trees and other growth which otherwise would require "the insertion of personnel and equipment prior to helicopter assault," he said.

The weapon is designated the BLU 82B general purpose high explosive concussion bomb, 4.5 feet in diameter, over 11 feet long and weighing 15,000 pounds. Within a thin steel case are 12,600 pounds of a dense blasting agent made up of ammonium nitrate, aluminum powder and a binding agent, the scientists said. The bomb is delivered under ground radar control by a C130E aircraft and is floated to the ground by a parachute from altitudes of 7,000 to 10,000 or more feet, they said.

The two men said it is being used mostly in South Vietnam, but they also said they learned it has been used in Cambodia and Laos. They also said it is used to interdict enemy roads in mountainous areas by creating landslides.

The bomb is detonated just above the ground, simultaneously at both ends to create a radial concussion, which leaves no crater but blows away all trees and other obstructions even in heavy jungle to create a clearing about the size of a football field.

Show's Debut Is Fast

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Sonny and Cher Show" got off to a fast start Monday night. It will take a few more weekly editions before CBS knows whether the variety hour will work as a winter replacement as well as it did as a summer replacement, but it should. The stars have distinctive personalities and the hour had style and a good pace.

The husband-and-wife team worked comfortably and seemingly effortlessly in musical numbers. In their comedy dialogues, Sonny continued to play straight man to Cher, mistress of dead-pan put downs, many of which were wryly funny.

Highlight of the program was a witty operatic spoof of "All in the Family," with baritone Robert Merrill doing a passable imitation of Archie Bunker and with Cher playing Edith, his wife. Carroll O'Connor, star of the real TV series, joined the group for a hallelujah chorus to being "numero uno in the ratings."

Harvey Korman was pretty much wasted in some lesser comedy sketches and Cher was not at peak form doing imitations of Marlene Dietrich, Sadie Thompson and Neferitti.

The program had a particularly imaginative musical number, a fable about peace. It was sung by Cher while some engaging animated cartoons illustrated the words.

NBC programmers continue to experiment with off-beat ways of putting shows together.

Coming along soon will be a novel double feature—two new "World Premiere" programs in succession. Another item on its docket is a two-hour "World Premiere" containing three different segments. Each segment will be a pilot program for a future series.

Some old friends are getting a new lease on life as the hunt for entertainment material intensifies. One of the three-segment pilots will be a revival of "Topper," which years ago was a TV series starring Anne Jeffries and Robert Sterling. Another will be "The Bear and I," spun off the cookie-loving bear on the old Andy Williams hours.

Closer at hand is ABC's "Movie of the Week" on Jan. 4—"Gidget Gets Married," this time with Monie Ellis in the title role.

NBC is thinking about reviving "Lights Out" as a series next season. It was a dramatic series on the network more than 20 years ago.

Then there is the Gay 90s musical show with Fred and Mickey Finn that was an NBC summer replacement several seasons ago and is back as a successful syndicated show called "Happy Days Are Here Again." And game show packagers Goodson and Todman are talking to Bill Cullen about bringing back "The Price Is Right" in syndication. It lasted nine years as a network series.

County's First Lady Dead at 103

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. Andy J. James, 103, known as "the first lady" of Johnson County died Monday at an Overland Park nursing home.

Mrs. James, of Overland Park, was born July 4, 1868, in a farmhouse at what is now 106th and Metcalf. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Riley, bought a home there the same year. Her family had traveled here by covered wagon.

Mrs. James married in 1891 to a shorthorn cattle breeder and property auctioneer for the government. Her husband was also postmaster of the area when mail was still carried by horseback.

"The first lady" lived at her last address, 6700 W. 103rd, since 1897. The family sold 400 acres of its land in southern part of Overland Park for the development of the Nall Hills subdivision in 1955, keeping only 40 acres.

Mrs. James has been active in preserving historical areas in the county and was instrumental in preserving several area cemeteries.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, three grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Eagleton Praises Committee Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., Monday commended the Congressional appropriations committee for rejecting the so-called "dream tank" Army project.

The project had mushroomed from an original estimated cost of $138 million to $2.4 billion, Eagleton said in a newsletter.

Eagleton said the main battle tank now used by American forces is equal to or better than any Soviet equipment.

Parole Granted In Drug Incident

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Court Judge Stephen R. Pratt paroled Keith Hubbs, 18, of Liberty for five years and a renewal of five years at the discretion of the judge on the condition that Hubbs repay $203 he accepted for the sale of drugs.

William S. Brandom, Clay County prosecutor, explained the condition as a means of returning to the taxpayers money that is used by undercover agents to buy illegal drugs to set up the raids.

"It cost us $9,400 to make buys of illegal drugs in the two raids we had. We hope to get at least 25 per cent back. This is the first case where the court has ordered the money returned as a condition of the parole," Brandom said. "We will try and get our money back in all cases where a defendant pleads guilty."

Hubbs, who had pleaded guilty, had been sentenced to 10 years in the Missouri Department of Correction for aiding and abetting the sale of drugs to an undercover agent.

Smugglers Give Plea Of Guilty

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Four of 10 persons indicted in connection with smuggling of heroin from Thailand to St. Louis pleaded guilty in U. S. District Court Monday.

The pleas were entered by Frank August, 25; Agnes Brittain, 33, and Aaron Gray, 35, of St. Louis and Donald Graine of Bangkok, Thailand.

The government moved to dismiss charges against the other six persons named in the indictment.

Judge William H. Webster said he would rule on the dismissal motion Jan. 17, the day he will pronounce sentence on the four.

August told the court he sold heroin to the other persons involved in the indictment and traveled between St. Louis and Chicago to arrange for the sale of heroin shipped from Bangkok to St. Louis. He said some of the drug was shipped in the head of a leopard skin.

August said he received $75,000 from the operation.

Also named in the indictment were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Kimbrell of Ironton, Mo.; Clyde Penrose of Houston, Pa.; Patricia Atkins of Bangkok, and two Thai nationals from Bangkok, Preecha Leeyarug and Boonlert Kun Bun Roong.

The maximum penalty for the offense charged is 20 years imprisonment and a $20,000 fine.

Critical Of Butz Position

HEMINGFORD, Neb. (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz is "stabbing the family farmer in the back," according to Vic Haas of Hemingford, president of the Nebraska Wheat Growers Association.

Haas said Butz asked the Senate to kill a bill that would boost wheat and feed grain price supports by 25 per cent.

"Aside from buying some corn which has helped a few who haven't sold their crop already," Haas said, Butz has not used his authority to support prices on wheat and feed grains.

"Now he is fighting efforts of farmers, businessmen and Congressmen to do so in the Senate," Haas said.

"If that isn't anti-family farm as we have suspected all along, then I'll eat a bushel of raw wheat," Haas said.

He said that H.R. 1163 and the Melcher Amendment that would increase price support loans passed the House as a single bill and has been approved by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

According to Haas, Butz has taken a position that the Melcher Amendment would wreck the U.S. export program.

Haas said, "The farmer is being made to pay for the U.S. balance of payment."

"While other countries import manufactured items at low prices because of cheap labor, not a manufacturer in the United States is asked to export at less than production cost. But that is what the U.S. wheat farmer is being forced to do," Haas said.

Haas also said that Butz told Nebraska Sen. Carl Curtis before the secretary's confirmation that he would "take all appropriate action authorized under the law to bolster prices for corn and feed grains and strengthen family farms."

Chaplain Program Combines Forces

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — About 30 ministers and priests have pooled their services with those of three law enforcement agencies in this area in a volunteer chaplain program.

Under the program, known as the Community Chaplain Service, each clergyman is on call one day a month and most will spend about one of the 24 hours riding in a patrol car.

The volunteers received special training for the program, said The Rev. Wesley Arington, the originator of the idea.

The services will include informing relatives of persons involved in accidents or arrests and of requested counseling families.

The law agencies taking part are Troop D of the Missouri highway patrol, the Greene County sheriff's office, and Springfield police.

Hearings Planned On Merger Attempt

They will also review the proposed merger involving Columbia Insurance Co., Magnolia, Ark., and First Equity Life Insurance Co., of Springfield.
